Principal's report

The greatest achievement of the human spirit is to live up to one's opportunities and to make the most of one's resources.

The facts on GONSKI

As I am relatively new to our school community, you may not be aware; I am a passionate advocate of public education. I have been proudly vocal in my support of the Gonski Review and the subsequent findings of that expert committee. I was thrilled to hear the announcement by the Premier of NSW, Barry O'Farrell when he became the first State leader to announce his support for the Federal government proposal to implement a 'National Plan for School Improvement', for all schools and all students. I have been further buoyed by the news that legislation has been passed by the House of Representatives to make this momentous plan a reality.

This is what the plan will mean to you and our children at Narrabeen Sports High School. The Plan will resource properly all schools, teachers and students for generations to come. It means fairer funding. Each student in every school will receive a base-rate loading which will be integrated into school funding, permanently and is indexed so it will keep up with the cost of schooling. Schools and principals will no longer be reliant on special, time limited programs, which in the case of Narrabeen Sports High School, we rarely receive.

Schools in New South Wales will get $5 billion extra, starting to flow in the next school year. Over time, this additional money will allow me to hire additional staff to support literacy and numeracy programs for students who struggle; hire talented writers in residence for gifted students; invest in technology for the future; invest additional resources into the professional learning of staff; invest in and promote the creative and performing arts; and so much more. I am full of ideas about the way this money can be used to ensure that our students receive the very best education that they deserve.

Some facts about The Schooling Resource Standard

Under the new Schooling Resource Standard there will be a base amount of $9,271 per primary school student and $12,193 per high school student, (we currently have 410 students at Narrabeen Sports High School). There will also be extra money each year, through ‘loadings’ for students and schools that need more support. This includes:

- Indigenous loading—ranging from $1,854 per primary student and $2,439 per secondary student to $11,125 per primary student and $14,631 per secondary student.
- Students with limited English skills loading—set at 10 per cent of the per student amounts.
- A location loading—applied to each school’s per student Schooling Resource Standard amounts plus any school size amount. This will range from 10 per cent of the loading amount for inner regional schools up to 80 per cent of the loading amount for some very remote schools.
- Size loading—ranging from $150,000 for primary schools with up to 200 students, to $240,000 for secondary schools with up to 500 students.
- A loading for students with disability. This loading will be phased in from 2015 once a nationally consistent data collection on students with disability has been established. In the meantime an interim loading has been calculated, and funding under the More Support for Students with Disability National Partnership will be extended by an extra $100 million in 2014.

I recently overheard a parent ask the question “where will this money come from?” My answer to that is simple: budgets are about setting priorities. What higher priority can a government have than ensuring the future security of our children? An excellent education generates a nation’s wealth and removes inequality. When education systems fail to invest fairly in opportunities for all children regardless of their economic circumstances, gender and location, entrenched generational poverty occurs. Our government currently spends less than the OECD average on education – less than Mexico. This is not a situation about which we should feel any pride. It is time to act.

If you would like more information about the ‘National Plan for School Improvement’ go to www.betterschools.gov.au. The website provides more information, including fact sheets.

I am excited by the possibility of additional funding for our school. However, our fight for fairness and equity is not over. The fear for many of us in Public Education is a change of Federal government in September could mean our children may not be the recipients of an increase in funding, nor future generations be the beneficiaries of a new funding formula that will enshrine fairness in public school funding into legislation. Please, if you have not already done so, go to the Gonski website at http://igiveagonski.com.au/ and make your voice heard.
My only purpose in drawing your attention to this issue is so that our children are the beneficiaries of great reform. My only concern is for the future of our great public education system which has and will continue to achieve so much for our children. The ‘National Plan for School Improvement’ will enable us to achieve so much more.

Two Deputy Principals at Narrabeen Sports HS:
From Monday June 17th Narrabeen Sports High School will have two Deputy Principal’s. Craig Date, former Head Teacher of Science takes up the six month trial of having a second Deputy Principal. Mr Date will be responsible for the discipline and welfare of Years 7, 9 and 11 as well as coordinating school attendance. Ms Peacock will continue in her capacity with responsibility for overseeing the welfare and discipline of Years 8, 10 and 12. The reason for the additional supplement is to support our students with more responsive and proactive programs.

English Faculty: Striving for Personal Excellence

On Thursday, 5th June Year 12 Advanced English students were fortunate enough to hear Professor Mark Baker speak about his book, ‘The Fiftieth Gate’ at the Sydney Jewish Museum. He utilises the literary technique Midrash, an ancient form of Jewish literary exegesis in order to illustrate the complex interplay between History and Memory. His readers also acquire a deeper understanding of one of the most horrific events of the twentieth century, The Nazi Holocaust. Our students were deeply moved by Olga, a Holocaust survivor. She spoke about her experiences in the Auschwitz Concentration Camp. She gave voice to the unspeakable horrors and evil humankind was and is unfortunately capable of committing. Her stoic demeanour and grace reinforced to our students the preciousness of life and compassion for all regardless of creed, race, religion, sex or class.

Debating

Last Friday, the Year 9 debating team debated against Balgowlah Boys High School. The chosen topic for the debate was, "All sports involving animals should be banned". Narrabeen won the toss and elected to be the affirmative team. Coming out on top, the team consisting of 1st speaker- Carina Leon De La Barra, 2nd speaker- Carl Saunders, 3rd speaker- Tomas Frankham and 4th speaker- Rebecca Whitehead, will now progress to the next level where they will meet St. Ives High School. A special thanks to Isabeau Wellington and Kaleb Patterson who have been the Chairperson and time keeper for the last two debates. An overall lively and great debate between both teams!

By Rebecca Whitehead

Our Year 7 debating team also competed against Balgowlah Boys High School. The topic for the debate was, "Students, who witness bullying and don't report it should be suspended." Narrabeen was the affirmative side, which means we agreed with the above statement. Jessica Graham, Reiley Frankham, Sophie Taylor and team adviser, Angie McIlwraith represented our school with pride. The team congratulated Balgowlah Boys on their win and the adjudicator informed our students they had spoken clearly and confidently. Debating is a great experience because students get to work as a team with friends and meet other students from different schools.

Musical Waves

This term, Year Seven students have studied "African Music and its influences" as a topic unit. Complimenting this unit, "Salaka" the African Drummer gave an interactive concert in the school hall, where students drummed, moved, chanted and sang African Music. Unanimously, the students agreed it was a fantastic concert.

Year Eight students are learning to play movie themes and are learning about composers of Film Music. At the moment, students have learned to play "Batman Theme" as well as "Star Wars Theme".

In class, Year Nine students have performed the 1960's classic, "Stand by Me" by Ben E. King. They are now moving into a Beatles’ unit and have learned to play "Ob La Di, Ob La Da".
Students of Year Ten have just completed performing Dave Brubeck’s “Unsquare Dance” which falls into the category of Jazz Music. In week eight, a student from this year will be performing at the formal assembly; his name is Raoul Ceterelli. He is to be congratulated for his enthusiasm to perform a challenging piece by Ludivico Einaudi called “Nuvole Bianche”. He is a very competent and talented musician. We look forward to his performance.

For the Preliminary Higher School Certificate Year Eleven students are studying the topic area of “Film Music” where they are acquiring deeper knowledge through listening, discussing, performing, improvising and writing. Students also are attempting their performing assessment this term. It is important parents understand that at this senior level of performing, there is a need to have a private instrumental tutor for students to compete at a HSC state level to achieve a high mark. The average HSC mark for the One Course was 80/100 in 2012.

The new formation of the Narrabeen Wind Ensemble is made up of Mitchell Teppo on Tenor Saxophone, Grace Morrissey on Alto Saxophone, Rebecca Whitehead on Clarinet, Isabella Cowap on Clarinet and newcomer, Erin Healey on Clarinet. Rick Robertson is their tutor who teaches them on a Thursday at 1.35 to 2.35pm. We welcome this new ensemble and look forward to future performances.

The singing ensemble is made up of a contingency of fifteen girls from Year Seven to Year Nine who meet every Tuesday at lunch times. They have learned to sing several songs such as “Theme from Titanic”, “Six Ribbons” and “Jet-Plane”. They will be performing the National Anthem at the formal assembly.

In October, the National Music Education Conference will be held in Barton, Canberra. I will be attending this three-day conference where the latest research, musical issues and agendas will be discussed with professors, doctors, music educators and musicians. The advocacy of Music is of the utmost importance for its survival in this day and age; particularly in a society that now prioritises business above academic, spiritual, emotional and musical growth which has always been the fabric of a traditional education since Ancient Greek times.

Marine Studies
Teachers Professional Learning

Although pouring rain on the Wednesday made for a poor showing for the “Teaching marine studies using marine parks” workshop; the dive part was shifted to Saturday morning @ 6:45am. There was a stunning abundance of marine life @ Fairy Bower to be observed, photographed and hand fed: Giant cuttlefish, Blue grouper, Spangled emperor, Crimson banded wrasse, Dusky flathead, sharks and rays to mention but a few.

Year Nine Visual Arts

Over the term Year 9 has opened their hearts and minds to abstract art. They have learnt a multitude of painting techniques and found the abstract out of the ordinary. The chaotic classroom was a hub of creatively and some of the final results were outstanding. The artworks will be on display in the front office as soon as they are complete.

Shannon Purcell

Visual Arts Teacher
Our Year 9 Art class has been studying abstract art. We did three different abstract activities to help us paint like an abstract artist. With the help of Miss Purcell we chose our best work and used the different techniques we learnt over the term to create an abstract painting on canvas. The process was fun, challenging and now I feel confident to continue painting. I really enjoyed learning how to paint and I am looking forward to our next topic in Art.

L.O.T.E. Report

In Term 2 language students in Chinese and French have continued to enthusiastically embrace the skills necessary to develop spoken and written language and cultural awareness.

Both groups were tested on the four skills (listening, reading, speaking and writing) and the year 7 and 8 classes were also given a cultural research assignment. I’m delighted to say that most students have tried hard, made good progress and have been successful in their language studies. Some, however, need to be more organised and make the effort to hand assignments on time.

Chinese students in year 7 have been learning numbers up to 100, can ask and say what their phone numbers are and use the special way to count to 10 in Chinese using one hand. Recently they have spent time focusing on the structure of Chinese characters and practising writing some of the characters for the words learnt. They also know more greetings now for different times of the day. This week each class watched how to cook dumplings and most were able to use chopsticks and certainly enjoyed eating them!

During Term 2, the year 7o class has continued with their study of French. They have been introduced to a new text entitled ‘Ça Bouge’. This course is based on a series of dialogues which take place in a French High School. At the end of Unit 1, students learnt a song and participated in a role play. Since the aim of Unit 2 is to identify and describe someone, they have been learning the parts of the body. They have also played the game ‘Simon dit’, the French version of Simon says. (Ms Raffaele – Teacher of French)
Year 8 finished their study of German and this term they have started to learn French. They began by locating France and discovering what some of the cities were famous for and which other countries speak French. They know how to greet each other at various times of the day and ask each others names. They can enquire about people’s health and are gaining more confidence with the sometimes tricky pronunciation of French. Last lesson each student typed out all the words they have learnt so far and made a word cloud using a website called ‘Tagxedo’. A great start to the new language.

Year 9 elective language class is continuing with their French studies. They can talk about the subjects they are studying and discuss timetables which concluded the unit on school. The next unit has looked at talking about their friends as well as themselves. They can describe themselves and others and talk about nationalities and ethnic origins. Last week they all prepared a speech about themselves and delivered it to the class. In a number of lessons we make use of the cdrom that accompanies the textbook and use websites which have interactive activities to help develop their language skills with known topics. All students are progressing well, keep up the good work year 9!

Senior Girls Grade Sport

The third round of Grade sport proved to be a cracker for the Senior Girls Soccer Team. The 5-2 win recalled our fearsome win from Round 1 (5-0) and solidified our girls’ sense of team purpose and drive. Not only have the goals been abundant but the team shares them out, with a third of the team having scored a goal already in the season. Special mentions are also deserved of the midfield and back line who have consistently beaten back any opposition with impressive tackling and intercepting skills. The enthusiasm of the girls, regardless of their soccer ability (some have only started this year!), is reflected in their excellent results. Bring on the rest of the season!

MAY CAR BOOT SALE RECAP

The P&C and NSHS would like to say "thank you" again to all the volunteers who had a hand in the May Car Boot Sale, helping the event to run so successfully, back on May 26th.

We are still finalizing some of the figures, there is an estimated profit of $5,000, this figure is combined from the BBQ sales, car parking donation and all the stall places sold. These hard earned funds from the 4 Car Boot Sales each year help pay for items, for our school, when extra resources are needed to cover costs.

A special thanks to Vyv Roberts who organizes the BBQ and drink sales for the entire crowd on the day. Geoff Bateman put in many days of time, with lots of new signage and set up work required because of the new location. Vicki Smith, and Geoff also closely assisted Jo Moyes into the new Car Boot Co-ordinator position. The P&C Treasurer, Jeanne Young, is an essential contributor to these events, as well as the office staff who help with calls and bookings. For all involved, you are very much appreciated for your contributions.
